GET BUSY.

There's a saying oft you've heard, months I were a clothes pin on the end of my noise to the great discomfort of the nose and the great amusement of my friends. So remembering my childish distress, I will give you an inexpensive and safe remedy for freckies. You might try buttermilk for your freekies. Wash your face in buttermilk at night and apply a compress disped in buttermilk to the affected. dipped in buttermik to the affected game of leap frog, so a suit which shall be at the same time decorous enough for the schoolroom and stout enough for the playground is a desideratum for the lad of from 6 to 16.

This suit should be made of strong, good cloth. Cheap, shoddy material is like tow in the fire before the onslaught of the boy. For all but the warmest weather a good cheviot is comfortable, and readers his rayages as well as any

Seams should be neatly and strongly finished at the ends and strong lines thread used in their manufacture. But toos especially must receive pienty of thread, and those which have to bear a strain should be sewed on over a pin or a match, which should be removed when the sewing is done. The thread should then be wound around the strands between the button and the cloth until a structure is built which is perfectly firm. Then the thread should be securely fastened on the under side. A strong double lining or stay for the button should be provided, or else at the first provocation the boy will demolish the cloth liself, and nothing will be left upon which a new button may be established. Seams should be neatly and strongly

On all ready made suits the buttons should be carefully re-sewed before the boy is allowed to don the garments. Cloth-novered buttons are a delusion. At the best the cloth covering wears shabby in a few weeks, and it is often difficult to match the buttons. Bone and gutta percha buttons are good enough for any common suit. Braid blinding, even when it is alpaca, is to be avoided. It wears off early in conspicuous places and must be offen. enspieuous places and must be often

Most mothers find the ready made suit if purchased from reliable deal-ers, the most economical. Among most of these, even the best, a prevailing failing is a narrowness of the cont across the chest. The result of this is common the chest. The result of this is to make the boy stoop and injure his breathing power. It would be better to have the cost a trifle broad than too narrow. Indeed, in buying coats for growing boys, allowance must be made for much filling out and streching up during a period of three or four months.

A common fault of ready made shirts, both cotton and woolen, is a neck too high at the back. No boy or man can carry himself properly when his neck is thrust forward by an ill fitting shirt. If it be not possible to have such a garment made to order, be sure that any constriction of the neck is relieved before the shirt is worn.

As a rule, materials for boys' cloth-before the shirt is worn.

As a rule, materials for boys' clothing containing blue stripes or checks should be avoided. Blue, except dark navy, usually fades and makes eren a good garment look shabby weeks before its race is legitimately run. Some browns are apt to turn rusty. Plain black or any plain color shows stains of all sorts more readily than mixed surfaces.

The bravest and best of men and women can only say: I have done my duty."

Many of the finest physiclans claims that it is better to leave the marks alone, and they may disappear. Others say that oure olive oil rubbed lightly into the skin will eventually clear the face. Try the oil, and write me about results. Be sure the oil is the best quality, and do not rub the face hard but with a light, firm touch.

Biscuits and Breakfast Bread.

French Toust.—Beat three eggs well. and add one-half teacupful of milk, dip into this mixture slices of bread and fry them in butter till slightly browned; serve pipting hot. Graham Muffins.—Set the fron gem pans on the stove to heat; beat one egg light in a basin; add one teacupful of sour milk and two tableshoon-

'ul of sour milk, and two tablespoor ful of sour mink, and two tablespoon-fuls of sugar; stir well together; add a pinch of salt; stir in graham flour to make a rather stiff batter; mix thor-oughly with the addition of one table-spoonful melted butter; lastly, stir in one-third teaspoonful soda, dissolved in a teaspoonful of hot water; the batter, when ready to drop into the well heated and greased gem pans, should be so thick that it will not run from the spoon, but just drop nicely. This will make one dozen excellent gems.

Rice Waffles.—To one quart of sweet milk allow two coffeecups of bolled rice, and three-quarters of a cup of wheat flour; warm the milk, stir in the above named articles, add half a teacup of homemade yeast, and half a teasure of the steamporful of salt. Make at 19 o'clock.

Good Things to Learn.

Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.

Learn how to tell a story. A well-told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sickroom.

Learn to keep your own troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to care for your ills and sorrows.

Learn to stop croaking. If you can not see any good in this world, keep the bad to yourself. Uearn to stop croaking to your own business. Very important point.

Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile. No one cares whether you have the carache, headache or rheumatism.

Learn to greet your friends with a smile. They carry too many frowns in the first to you wonderfully in vases.

It in the oven with sugar and a little water.

A sofa pillow filled with sweet clover gives a delicious and refreshing odor.

Many prefer clover to a pine filling.

Matting is greatly improved if gone over with a damp cloth once a week. Do not have the cloth wet, as water to state matting.

Salt sprinkled over a low coal fire will greatly add in curling feathers, Shake the plumes constantly and do not hold them too near the fire.

To revive withered flowers which have been packed or carried for some distance is not always easy. The following plan has been found very satisfactory: Plunge the stalks into very hot water and allow them to stand till the water is cold. Then cut off the ends of the stalks and arrange the flowers in cold water. Thus treated flowers will last wonderfully in vases.

A case that is of universal interest has been docketed in the United States supreme court at Washington.

It is termed Jerry E. Donovan vs. Michael T. Perry. The case involves the question of dumages for loss of a position through the "unionizing" of a shop. Donovan was the representative in Haverhill. Mass., of the Boot and Shoe Makers' union. He entered into a contract with the employers of Perry to provide them with union labor. Thereupon Perry had to be discharged. Perry brought suit against Donovan and was awarded $1.500 by the trial court. The verdier was affirmed by the superior court of Massachusetts. Donovan takes the case to Washington on ovan takes the case to Washington on a writ of error. The whole labor world will watch with concern for the final decision.
